LOL LMAO

Okay this is obviously lisa the lunatic who might be one of the only people close to as insane as kathleen. How's your buddy simon wessley? And the MI5 persecution? LOL

Let's examine this:

Hi everyone,

When I read "cojone"— I couldn't resist posting! LOL. Its my first as a newbie who has had some experience at sci.med in the past.

Yes someone obviously familiar with cojones. Interesting, trys to start out sounding friendly but can't stop >herself from digressing into lunacy. You may know cojones from your profession though...

The impersonation and or smearing of suffering people like Sarah, Lisa, Carla, Karen and many others on the sci.med.disease.lyme forum — and the goading and jailing of Kathleen— should be a wake up call to everyone in the Lyme community. We have serious enemies — they are persistent, they have NO cojones — and they have deep pockets, they have US Senators, and they have BIG, pro-bono Washignton law firms at their beck and call.

Goading and jailing of kathleen? Serous enemies? No one can be serious when dealing with these whackos

These " men" are not operating on a fair playing field— by now it should be obvious that no sane person would spend hours monitoring every conversation on Lyme forums ---- or going to vast efforts to impersonate people---- if they weren't being paid to do so. They even get free legal help from big Washington law firms.

Oh really? Do the big washington law firms bill this as pro bono work?

We don't have these resources. But we have something they don't:
COJONES.

You have something but it isn't call cojones. It is called serious mental illness.

These "men" will stop at nothing to prevent the truth about Lyme (and Morgellons) from coming out into th
