Good for you, Barbara. Those who won't practice basic netiquette deserve no answers. I don't know what alt.vampyres is about exactly, but I'm pretty sure the folks there didn't laugh at the "joke" much. Usenet abuse and lack of common netiquette is rampant. It destroys newsgroups, and inappropriate cross-posting is high on the list of how that happens.

Got a question? Good, ask in the appropriate newsgroups and limit your cross-posting to 3 groups maximum. If you can't follow that "rule" then I can only assume you probably fart in public and pick your nose at the dinner table too.
