

Re: Debate Pops Open Over Soda Warnings

Source: <http://sci.tech--archive.net/Archive/sci.med.nutrition/2005-07/msg00808.html>

- From: DarthChaosofRSPW@xxxxxxxxxx
 - Date: 22 Jul 2005 11:37:03 -0700
-

Well, if you go by Kevin Trudeau's logic, then you would have to say that the government, the FTC, and the FDA will never regulate food choices in America as, according to Trudeau, "the FDA and FTC is in cahoots with the drug industry and the food industry, and the drug industry does not want to cure diseases because curing diseases would put them out of business, and that the food industry puts secret ingredients in food to make you addicted to the food and want to buy more of their food".

And what's this about regulating online games? Are we gonna have to pay annual internet taxes, annual computer taxes, and annual video game taxes to fund HillaryCare?

.

• References:

- ◆ Debate Pops Open Over Soda Warnings
 - ◇ From: TC
- Prev by Date: Re: Debate Pops Open Over Soda Warnings
- Next by Date: Re: milk & disease
- Previous by thread: Re: Debate Pops Open Over Soda Warnings
- Next by thread: Allegations of fake research reach new highs in United States
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread