A group Wholely dedicated to and for Science graduates.

Here is a group Wholely dedicated to and for Science graduates.

This group offers information on anything and everything related to Science.

Here, we share information regarding the recent researches in the various fields of science.

Anyone with interest in science can join this group.

The members can post messages in their own graduation field or their most interested field of science. Links to many science related web sites are listed in this group.

This group offers you information about careers and career choices and further education options and job openings for all science graduates and post graduates and research related web resources will be published from time to time.
