

Re: Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?

---

Source: <http://sci.tech--archive.net/Archive/sci.med.prostate.prostatitis/2005-05/msg00047.html>

---

- From: "Pete" <petesworkshop@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Mon, 16 May 2005 04:39:29 GMT
-

Bol...I didn't mean it literally (i.e., that there was a definite connection or that one leads to the other). Sorry for the misnomer. I just meant that if you have both (which many people do), it is difficult for a uro to say which one is more likely to be causing blockage and pain (for instance). Prostatitis is the big pain guy as far as I am concerned, whereas bph causes poor flow and retention (but so can prostatitis). One of the many kinds of pain I get with prostatitis is unbearable and hard to describe. It is kind of like peeing or ejaculating and then stopping all of a sudden midway. That is not it exactly it, but imagine how horrible that would feel. It is a very gnawing, eating, kind of burning pain (but not true burning like peeing razor blades of just real bad burning when you pee). It is hard to describe but it will eat you alive and it is non stop. Do you have a feel for what I am describing. What's with this guy named mo and the antacid crap. I will check out your site. I have been there before. Write back if you can...Pete

"BO L." <bol@xxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:pzShe.17528\$J12.11937@xx

>
> "Pete" <petesworkshop@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
> news:Pnvhe.213747\$cg1.11305@xx

>>
>> This group used to be pretty good back in 1997 when there were several >> doctors involved and a lot of suffering prostatitis persons just like you >> and me. The participants seem to have dropped drastically (based on the >> numbers and frequency of the posts), and we appear to have lost the >> doctors. There is also the prostate.bph group which seems to have more >> participants. IMO prostatitis and bph go hand in hand

>
> I have not heard of any studies showing this. For serious discussions of > prostatitis, go to www.chronicpelvicpain.us

>
>
>
>
>

- Follow-Ups:
  - ◆ Re: Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?
    - ◇ From: BO L.

- References:
  - ◆ Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?
    - ◇ From: ProstatitisEDO
  - ◆ Re: Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?
    - ◇ From: Pete
  - ◆ Re: Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?
    - ◇ From: BO L.

- Prev by Date: Re: Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?
- Next by Date: Re: Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?
- Previous by thread: Re: Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?
- Next by thread: Re: Any Dr. Federico Guercini patients?
- Index(es):
  - ◆ Date
  - ◆ Thread