

Re: Need some help with problem

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2004-06/1736.html>

From: CyberCafe (pkbk_at_badger.tds.net)

Date: 06/25/04

Date: Fri, 25 Jun 2004 07:05:50 -0500

Susan Mitchell wrote:

> I have a strange problem.
>
> I am now having my second bout with this "odd" pain problem (Had a week-long > episode probably a month or more ago). My body feels like it is covered > with bruises (it is not). If you run your hand lightly down my shoulder and > arm it feels so tender I can hardly stand to slip on a Tee shirt. This goes > across the upper chest and is on the opposite site and the back. Now it is > from my neck to my sacroiliac area. Some tenderness in the thighs. Before > I noticed this I was hit with fatigue that almost knocked me off my feet.
> Went to bed at 11, up at 6 went to a breakfast meeting. At the end was just > "normal" tired. By the time I was home I thought I needed to go to bed.
> Ate some oatmeal in case it was food. All day I have been so tired it is > all I can do to walk to the bathroom. I have taken two naps. One for an > hour, one for 30 minutes. I'm tired now and of course feel battered and > bruised. Any idea what the heck's going on? What is weird is the sensation > of bruises is so severe. I mean, just runny a shirt over the skin. It > seems to be my skin, not real deep into muscle (some muscle but mostly skin > area).
>
> --
> Sue -- Firefighter mom -- Still Rabid UW Dawg Fan!
> (to reply send to medlawtrans@comcast.net)

I agree with the others that you need to see a doctor. Can you let us know what the doctor thinks it is?

Barb