Thanks Gisele. I've given the business over to my partner for the most part and am just managing my two favorite accounts. Now, I need to figure out how to keep working and go back to school. The kicker is that I only have maybe 30 credit hours under my belt and a long way to go. I wanted to go into psychology while in high school but didn't go to college right after. I went to college when my middle daughter was just a baby, but then family and work became an issue and I didn't even finish my first year. I'm gonna do this somehow though. It will probably take me 7 to 10 years, but time is the one thing I do seem to have an abundance of.
