

Re: IE help...

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2004-12/5008.html>

From: Eliyahu Rooff (lrooff_at_hotmail.com)

Date: 12/30/04

Date: Thu, 30 Dec 2004 11:37:12 -0800

Tried that, too. I've got two hard drives here, with the second one used for backup storage. I've dragged the files back and forth, as well as having just installed FireFox, which will only import whatever is showing in IE at the time. The favorites already show up in the Windows "favorites" file. IE just isn't paying any attention to them.

Eliyahu

"djgordon" <danigordon@bellsouth.net> wrote in message news:YCYAd.1575$7N4.103@bignews5.bellsouth.net...
| Whenever I have reformatted here is what I have done to replace my
| favorites. I copied the whole Favorites folder to another drive,
| computer,
| whatever. Then once I reformatted and got the IE up and running, I
| just went
| and copied the moved Favorites and pasted it back over the top of
| the new
| Favorites under the Windows folder. If you know where your
| bookmarks are,
| you can basically do the same thing. Just go copy your files of
| bookmarks,
| then go to the Windows folder under C drive and right click on
| Favorites and
| hit paste.
|
| Dani
|
| "Eliyahu Rooff" <lrooff@hotmail.com> wrote in message
| news:33j26gF3u38fgU1@individual.net...
| > Already tried that, but it's only designed to let you import
| them
| > from another browser; not from a computer file. I can import
| them
| > one bookmark at a time that way, but I've got over a thousand
| sites
| > to import. (I do a lot of online research here at work...)
| >

Re: IE help...

