

Re: I'M GONNA TELL.....

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2005-08/msg00883.html>

- From: RaeMorrill <RaeMorrill@xxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 12 Aug 2005 20:35:02 GMT
-

maybe four wheel steering for ease of parallel parking?

Neal wrote:

I gotta tell this (since I can't tell it anywhere else).

I want a luxury car. I've never had a luxury car. I NEED a luxury car. I mentioned it last night to the wife, but she just growled and walked out. I was going to tell her we would sell our present two cars and the cost would not be so much, but she left before I had a chance.

This morning while we were out for breakfast, I smilingly and nice-like told her all the nice things a luxury car has, like dual heat and cold, heated leather seats, heated mirrors, a GPS system, rear view tv to help me park, uh, (running out of things here) wood trim inside, uh, uh, a bunch of neat things.

She told me to shut up about it.

We left the restaurant in separate cars, me coming home, and her going to the college bookstore for a book. She seemed like she was gone a long time, and I started wondering if she had gone to the Infinity dealer to surprise me with an Infinity M35!

She came home a few minutes ago. She had been looking at an apartment for Sarah. Guess I will be a dreamer forever.

Neal