

Re: What we take for granted

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2005-11/msg01818.html>

---

- From: "Mary Tweedie" <me@xxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Fri, 25 Nov 2005 10:53:23 GMT
-

Hi Rae,

Every time I see you post about horse riding, I think of an anesthesiologist I used to work with. His wife was an avid rider. I remember her at a Christmas party, where she was the funniest person there, keeping us all in stitches. On day at work, he got a call saying that his wife had been in an accident and fallen off her horse. She had massive brain damage and was like an 8-year-old after that. Couldn't be left alone at home, etc. Who knows what could have been prevented had she worn a helmet.

Mary from Maine (leaving soon for SC for the winter)

"RaeMorrill" <RaeMorrill@xxxxxxx> wrote in message news:8Gvhf.35332\$DL6.10418@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

> And it's great those "heros" set a good example. I've gone a few rounds > in my horse forums over a teen who "trusts God" to take care of her, > then gets angry if I challenge that using faith versus presumption. I've > nothing against faith: I just don't think it's respectful of God to step > off the side of a cliff or out of a plane and say "God will protect me" > when there are parachutes. It amazes me still that helmets are not > mandatory in any equine activity, especially in minors. Believe it or > not, it isn't. Some disciplines it just doesn't fit their style, so they > don't wear them.

.

---

- Follow-Ups:
  - ◆ *Re: What we take for granted*
    ◇ From: Jeannie Wilson
- References:
  - ◆ *What we take for granted*
    ◇ From: jmorngstar
  - ◆ *Re: What we take for granted*
    ◇ From: Gisele
  - ◆ *Re: What we take for granted*

Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: Bob

◆ Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: RaeMorrill

◆ Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: Bob

◆ Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: RaeMorrill

◆ Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: Bob

◆ Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: RaeMorrill

◆ Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: Bob

◆ Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: Eliyahu Roof

◆ Re: What we take for granted

◇ From: RaeMorrill

- Prev by Date: Re: buying a computer on ebay?
- Next by Date: Re: buying a computer on ebay?
- Previous by thread: Re: What we take for granted
- Next by thread: Re: What we take for granted
- Index(es):
  - ◆ Date
  - ◆ Thread