One thing I do personally understand is how liberalizing abortion has come along with a ZPG mentality. I got lots of odd looks and hateful comments when I carried my third and fourth children. So much for being pro-choice, unless by "pro choice" you mean free to choose to abort.

I received similar comments from friends and family who equated me with a baby making machine. It never occurred to them that I sincerely enjoyed being pregnant and that I considered children a blessing, not an inconvenience or career buster.
