Re: OT MP3 players

Source: http://sci.tech−archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2006−03/msg01195.html

- From: Marc Heusser <marc.heusser@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
- Date: Sun, 12 Mar 2006 04:08:28 +0100

In article <Xns9783CB2E5BADFjwilson421comcastnet@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>,
Jeannie Wilson <jwilson421@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

> Does that allow you to transfer to an Ipod > and/or burn CDs with the music you download or does it only allow you to > play it on your computer where you originally downloaded it? Does it allow > you to "own" that song on that computer or does that song expire after a > certain amount of time, like with Raphsody?

from http://www.apple.com/itunes/music/ mostly:
Songs do not expire, you can burn them on any number of CDs for your own use, sync to any number of iPods and play the songs on up to five Macs or Windows PCs (the machines can be changed).
Quite fair overall − even though I prefer to buy CDs.

HTH
Marc

−−
Switzerland/Europe
<http://www.heusser.com>
remove CHEERS and from MERCIAL to get valid e−mail
.