

OT question

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2006-03/msg02026.html>

- From: "Su" <no.name@xxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 24 Mar 2006 09:29:59 -0600
-

You've given up MT and have entered The Actor's Studio in NY. They adore you. You're fantastic. You're another Meryl Streep (or Sean Penn). Steven Spielberg wants you. Ron Howard wants you. Martin Scorsese wants you. Rob Reiner wants you. (you get the idea)

You've been offered the lead part in a movie. The movie will be PG rated, so there's no nudity and there's no cussing. Your will be salary: $5,000,000 (think about it ... your children could go to fantastic schools, you could fix up your home, take the vacation of your dreams, donate it all to your favorite charity, etc)

Here's the catch ... the role is one that is direct opposition to your personal beliefs. Example: You're opposed to abortion, but the role requires you to play a doctor who performs abortions. You're a die-hard democrat and you have to play the #1 individual that tried to get Bush elected. You love this country, but you have to play a member of a terrorist group. (along those lines)

Remember ... $5,000,000 to do with what you want.

Could you and would you play the part?

.