

Re: Does anybody else have a noisy computer?

Re: Does anybody else have a noisy computer?

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2006-05/msg01348.html>

- From: jamalloy@xxxxxxx
 - Date: 14 May 2006 15:21:59 -0700
-

Mountain, I was just curious as to what is a proper amount of RAM when using today's digital software.

Mine says 512/MB SyncDRAM Total System Memory. The RAM acronym variants are confusing to me.

Also, I have been reading a lot about the Dell computers' double-core technology. Would this type of capability be beneficial to those transcribing with digital files, enabling the software to work quicker, or would the double-core technology not make any difference?

Thanks in advance for the info. :>)

Jennie
Washington, D.C

.