

Re: Book recommendations

Source: <http://sci.tech--archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2006-05/msg01442.html>

- From: "Barbara Carlson" <bbcarlson@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 16 May 2006 10:44:16 -0400
-

Just goes to show difference in taste. A book has to be believable to me, and that one just wasn't! Surviving a fall out of a helicopter from that height! Really..... I like the book suggestions, though. I read at night before going to bed as it gets my mind off everything and I sleep better, so I go through books like crazy and have this awful thing that I have to finish a book, no matter how bad it is (One exception, to this day I have NEVER finished Alice in Wonderland--have started it a few times). I like a good mystery, medical novels, and Clive Cussler! I loved James Michener--nobody writes like him--I miss him!

Barb C.

"Kathycarp" <kathycarp@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:mOOdnZaszpiiRvTZRVn-iw@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx

DH read Angels & Demons and he kept saying, "you HAVE to read this one!" I haven't yet, but I will. He really liked it.

--

Kathy

www.ambergriscaye.com/villadelsol

"Liz" <lizhug1@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message

news:KumdnVlzd8KcLftZnZ2dnUVZ_sGdnZ2d@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Really? I thought Angels & Demons was by far his best book!

"Barbara Carlson" <bbcarlson@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:kbCdnc-4vM2l3PTZnZ2dnUVZ_t2dnZ2d@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx

This one is pretty good. It's the only one other than the DaVinci Code that was okay. The other two books by him I thought were pretty bad. This one is no DaVinci Code, but its entertaining. I think maybe he should rest on his laurels. He'd have to go some to beat that.

Barb C.

Re: Book recommendations

"Mishell" <mishellr71@xxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:xx7ag.5182$mU6.4395@xxxxxxxxxxxx

If you like Dan Brown, try "Digital Fortress"
It was a quick read, a mystery, lots of NSA information (pertinent now since the NSA has been 'listening' to our phone calls and reading our emails.

Michelle

"Margie"
<nomoremargiesjunk@xxxxxxxxxxxx>
wrote in message
news:d9rh625b4lkcv70pu3fq0cqdr8a5geu2d5@xxxxxxxxxxxx

I'm one of those people who really only reads while on vacation. I'm looking for a book to take to Italy -- but strictly for reading on the plane. My criteria: Fiction, not too heavy subject
matter,
page-turner that grabs you on page 1 and doesn't let go,
and nothing over 300 pages or so. (My friend and I are gonna swap books, so I need something I can read from start to finish pretty quickly.) I loved Da Vinci Code (strictly as a mystery novel)
and that would be an example of the kind of engrossing plot I like. I've read all the Patricia Cornwells and not much else (such as Janet Evanovich, Kellerman, etc.). How 'bout
it, you readers? Otherwise, I'm gonna

Re: Book recommendations

go to Barnes & Noble this afternoon and pick the brains of the people who work there.

Margie