

Re: Coloring

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2006-06/msg01338.html>

- From: Anne Vasquez <annevasquez@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 29 Jun 2006 16:18:12 GMT
-

Too cool!! I bookmarked the page for the Images book. That looks like it's right up my alley. There's a store locally, Texas Art Supply, that has a terrific selection of that kind of coloring books, as well as the stained glass coloring books. I could spend a fortune there!

Ooooooh, glitter pens – I KNOW I'd like that!!! <G> I've had the same problems with gel pens that you have, though. They don't last long. I'm hoping someone will have suggestions for you, too!

im1whalen@xxxxxxx wrote:

I have done the fuzzy black posters and i keep a supply of the smaller ones on hand for the kids – from Rose Art.
<http://www.megabloks.com/en/roseart/> The "Images" books are all about geometric patterns. there are several of the same patterns in each book so If you don't like what you did with the first you can try another
<http://www.bestprices.com/cgi-bin/vlink/1561381098BT.html>
I love you use markers but the kids tend to get hold of them and ruin the tip. I like the gel pens because they come with glitter~!