I spent some time yesterday setting up this page. What I'd be interested in knowing is if it can be accessed by people who do NOT have AOL.

Also, if you can read it, what needs to be improved, if anything? Thanks for your help. Now, back to your regularly scheduled life.

Judity,

I can read it with Firefox.

I would suggest you either get a junk email address or get rid of the Send Email mailto: link. Bots scour the net looking for these kinds of links in web pages.

The use of the SANSERIF font and the "" tag in the text:

This novel may be purchased at the sites in the custom list below.

Re: OT – Just curious produced some really weird bolding in Firefox. For example, in the word "This", the "Thi" looks like it's super-bolded while the "s" looks bolded. The rest of the words have similar effects.
