

A message for Sheila

Source: <http://sci.tech--archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2006-08/msg03649.html>

- From: "Barbara Carlson" <bbcarlson@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 30 Aug 2006 16:01:47 -0400
-

I shouldn't do this, I know, but I am so disgusted with this person. Those on this news group know I don't get into the squabbles and name calling. When Sheila came on first I took her request seriously and answered her seriously—for which she actually thanked me.

I do not care if she is from India. I do care that we are losing transcription jobs to India, but I understand the economic reasons for it, and I certainly do not blame those in India.

But you come into this group of very successful professional business women and spout language I find offensive and which I have never seen on this news group before (and I have been on this news group for a few years now). Squabbles, yes, and occasionally some name calling, but not the kind of foul language you are spouting.

You are a disgrace to your country. You are only adding to the resentment many of us feel. You have no idea how old most of us are, though it is safe to assume with the experience of many that they have been in business for some time.

We don't want you here. I have never "blocked" anyone on this news group because I am interested in diverse opinions, even if I do not agree with them, but I am really fed up with having to read the hate and profanity in your postings.

I'm ready for all the nastiness you wish to throw my way, and I will not post to it again. You are no longer welcome and are a non persona to me.

Barb C.

.