I'll take advice ... better yet ... what the heck is supposed to happen?
I'm nearly 53 and I'm no where near it. I still have eggs in "the hen house."

I am way past midlife and could give anyone advice for free! LOL I know the trials and tribulations...and don't wish to go there again!
Didn't need a counselor though...guess it was just a learning how thing and accepting it. Might have been nice to have a counselor of some sort cuz I can tell you this--there are some things that happen that no one ever told me and boy I wish they had!!

Send flyers to SMTers to distribute in their areas when you're going there? In exchange for free admission – or a raincheck if they aren't
yet midlife LOL

Some of those are floating around.... working on that.

Left coast is next spring..... followed by the UK..... see? I dream

Yeah, all
good ideas..... :-)

Ads cost money Freebies
cost money
Cutting
costs costs
money

And that's an issue
right now... but I am
working on stuff like this.

Anyone
willing to flaunt a
"Have you
met My Midlife
Mentor?"
button??

:-)

LOL!
