

Re: If you still think we can win in Iraq..

Re: If you still think we can win in Iraq..

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.transcription/2006-11/msg00303.html>

- From: Jeannie Wilson <jwilson421@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sun, 05 Nov 2006 08:53:44 -0600
-

"Susan Mitchell" <medlawtrans@xxxxxxxxxxx> wrote here for all to see news:FeydnSocWaxXk9DYnZ2dnUVZ_qCdnZ2d@xxxxxxxxxxx:

My friend and I have sent 50 vests, they are not cheap -- I don't know where she gets them I just donate funds ..

Well, to chime in here about the bullet-proof vests. There are numerous law enforcement agencies right here in the US that send those officers out to serve and protect and they do not even provide their officers with vests.

I saw an interview with some soldiers in Iraq the other day who were helping set up the Iraq police - they have plain old nissan trucks to do their job in. Really sad that there is NOTHING protecting them yet they are trying their best to make their country a better place. The number of Iraqi police has dropped tremendously and I think it is really sad.

--

If you don't stand behind our troops, please feel free to stand in front of them!!!

.