I haven't been getting any messages through Outlook Express for several days now.

Not sure if the problem is with Earthlink's newserver or what.

I'm posting this through Scribera. There are a few new threads here that haven't come through on my newserver.

I'm wondering if it has been quiet because others are having similar problems, which I would find curious since collectively we all use quite a variety of ISP's and newservers.
