This was really cool! I don't "get" horses, and have only ridden a few times, so I don't grasp how difficult that was, but it certainly was pretty! I decided to search for more dressage videos on youtube, and this one just cracked me up

I've shared this with a few of you I know are horse lovers, but thought others might enjoy it. You don't have to know how to ride to appreciate this performance.
