First of all, Rae is correct that your post is spamming. Read the charter and the FAQ: www.mtexchange.com/smtfaq.htm.

The purpose of the NG is networking among individual MTs. Posts such as yours as spam.

Second, the fact that you have contracts doesn't mean you provide a decent service or that the quality of your work is up to par. While I acknowledge that your own English skills may not necessarily reflect those of the transcriptionists doing work in your company, the cynic in me doubts there's much difference.

Third, having a web site doesn't make you a legitimate company, a good company, a credible company – or any kind of company at all. Anyone these days can throw up a web site, start spamming the internet, and get hits. Likewise, any idiot willing to charge a lower fee than anyone else can probably get contracts, too.

Last, but not least – read the archives, read the others posts and get to know people in the NG prior to posting. It isn't considered neighborly to pop in, post spam, attempt to defend your lousy English language skills with even worse English language skills and address a long-time FEMALE member of the group as Mr.

them....and in the next few months we are gonna take a huge contract from India "By The Grace Of The GOD" .....So its my advise to you that instead of making persons degrade you should encourage them...and I hope you have learned all the manners from your parents too.....and now its up to you that how you feel this post according to your thinking!!.....

One more thing is that we are not spam, OK !! and if you are thinking that we have our website on subdomain so this is Temporary i.e currently we are testing our website and continuously monitoring it through Statcounter.com and we have got an excellent response and soon we are going to launch our own website on the internet.

So, Mr. Morrill !!!....do not try to degrade other peoples....and whenever you try to do that again in the future, first you should think about yourself or assess yourself right!!.....

Dear Mr. Morrill, I am so sorry for anything in this post that hurt you!!.....

"GO BLESS YOU" and "MAY GOD GIVE YOU A LOT OF HAPPINESS AND JOY"!

Best Regards

One of the growing company?

Will you idjots never learn that a) you're advertising to the people whose jobs you're trying to take and b) to hire someone who actually speaks English and undertstands it to proof your spam?

No, it really isn't as complicated as you'd like to make it.
