A guess, but how about "fixed stare"?

Does this Brief History context make sense?

Patient had become more and more confused and lethargic and less responsive in the boarding home that she was staying. In the emergency room the patient was found with fixed air, did not move her extremities and when was placed in a certain position she would hold it there.

I'm sure I hear "found with fixed air, did not move"

Does this make sense?

Thank you.

That makes a lot more sense. Thanks again.
