Get that video and have made into a DVD. Then give that DVD to your doctor and lawyer. If something happens, your feelings will be heard loud and clear. Make sure a copy of your living will is in the hands of the lawyer and the doctor, just in case.

(There reason for having the video made into a DVD is that DVD will fit into the legal or medical record much more easily than a video tape – but keep that video tape around, as well., just in case.)
