Chiropractic was built on medical failures – patients who had been everywhere else (all the MDs who failed always arrived at the same diagnosis – yeah right – LOL)...

It is possible that all those medical failures were going to get better anyway.

I doubt this after having seen medical failures get better under my own care – but my doubt is obviously biased.

I like Happy Dog's point that different chiros have different diagnoses and different treatments.

The chiropractic profession is not without large warts – but they are beauty marks compared to the grisly tomfoolery of the most prolific spinal manipulators – MD–obstetricians.

Happy Dog has been silent about MD–obstetricians closing birth canals up to 30% and keeping birth canals closed the "extra" up to 30% when babies get stuck – as they pull with hands forceps and vacuums – sometimes pulling so hard that spinal nerves are ripped out of tiny spinal cords....

Happy Dog ignores the Four OB Lies.

THE FOUR OB LIES

OB LIE #1. After MASSIVE change in the AP pelvic outlet diameter was clinically demonstrated in 1911 and radiographically demonstrated in 1957, the authors of Williams Obstetrics began erroneously claiming that pelvic diameters DON'T CHANGE at delivery.

OB LIE #2. After Ohlsen pointed out in 1973 that pelvic diameters DO change – the authors of Williams Obstetrics began erroneously claiming that their most frequent delivery position – dorsal – widens the outlet.

OB LIE #3. After I pointed out in 1992 that dorsal CLOSES – and so does semisitting – the authors of Williams Obstetrics – put the correct biomechanics in their 1993 edition – but kept in their text (in the same paragraph!) – the dorsal widens bald lie that first called my attention to their text...

OB LIE #4. OBs are actually KEEPING birth canals closed when babies get stuck – and claiming they are doing everything to allow the birth canal open maximally. (ACOG Shoulder Dystocia video – also forceps and vacuum births are performed with the mother in lithotomy.)

I noted some of the OB lies in an Open Letter to the FTC years ago...

RELEVANT AMA PRINCIPLES OF MEDICAL ETHICS....

"[AMA physician[s] shall...strive to expose those physicians...who engage in fraud or deception."

"[AMA p]hysician[s] shall...seek changes in those requirements which are contrary to the best interests of the patient."

"[AMA p]hysician[s] shall...make relevant information available to patients, colleagues, and the public..."

OTHER PHYSICIAN FRAUD AND DECEPTION

Physicians are concealing a vaccine adverse event (failure-to-immunize) as they fraudulently promote their vaccinations as being 100% effective as they (in effect) deny massive numbers of babies massive numbers of free daily immunizations.

See Breasts as doctors (also: Medical Veritas)

<http://health.groups.yahoo.com/group/chiro-list/message/3284>

Physicians are also temporarily asphyxiating babies and robbing massive amounts of blood volume from them (up to 50%). The medical euphemism for this obvious medical crime is "immediate cord clamping."
