Has anyone noticed that these mass killings are reported to occur more often in April or October? (I know there are not that many.) However, it occurred to me that these are times of high pollen from differing plants. A lot of plants are already pollenating around April and other, major groups begin to pollenate in April. April is a time when there is a lot of pollen from different groups.

Also, the pollen count in the eastern part of the country has been suggested to be the worst allergy season in 26 years.

Anyway, allergies have been linked to depression. I wonder if individuals with mental health problems may be worsened by this increase in pollen. Perhaps Cho Seung-Hui was affected by this?
