If you keep pouring in fuels that your body can't process properly... then eventually the motor starts experiencing serious difficulties. Some people develop dangerous tumours. Other people have Cholesterol levels that are through the roof. For you, your diet and lifestyle is causing the condition commonly referred to as Lupus...

This condition is simply a SYMPTOM of a very fundamental and dangerous imbalance within your body, and Lupus is simply the initial way it is manifesting itself in your body. Lupus is truly the least of your worries.

If you really think about that... it means that...

Lupus is not a disease but a symptom of your true disease inside your body: the root cause.
