

Survival Products for Biological Warfare

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med/2007-11/msg00128.html>

- From: anganb <lixiaoqiang127@xxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 29 Nov 2007 00:46:00 -0800 (PST)
-

Survival Products for Biological Warfare

Various simple items are recommended for use in the unlikely event of a biological attack. A secure face mask can help prevent contamination; barring this, any dense material, particularly one made of cotton, may suffice. The government further recommends keeping material that can be used to plug the gaps in windows and doors through which infectants may leak; this can include duct tape or garbage bags (garbage bags should be kept nearby in any case for general sanitation). A portable air purifier may help in further decontaminating a room that has already been well sealed-off. <http://www.askstar.com.cn/health/Survival-Products.htm>

.