Hi

I have read some good stuff here. Thank you.

I have added more pages to my site as a result of reading topics on Autism from various groups. There are 2 ebooks which i think are really useful to those who are just finding there feet with their Autism or their childs.

Please look around and I hope you find out some more information on Autism.

Great thread and thanks for all the information. Im now going to get back to The Curious Incident Of The Dog In The Night Time. :-)
