[Hammond]

You ought to be a fiction writer. I was never sexually abused by anyone.... except possibly a redheaded girlfriend in Florida who used to take coke and could screw for hours.

As a kid the only close call I ever had was hitchhiking late at night when I was about 10 years old. I got picked up by some guy who told me his name was "Benny Ding". (honest to god!) I knew right away I was in trouble and that the guy was a potentially dangerous perp.

He drove me to his "aunt's house" and told me he wanted me to stay overnight..... naturally I agreed to everything he said until the car stopped. When I got out, I ran with all my might back to a late night drugstore I had seen and burst thru the front door and told the druggist "Benny Ding" was chasing me. He called the state police and they took me into protective custody while they checked out "Benny Ding".

I wound up sleeping overnight in a jail cell at the state police barracks (MA), and could hear them questioning some guy in another cell at the end of the hall..... "ok... tell us where you got the 10 grand and the gun we found under the front seat.... and keep your voice down.... we got a runaway sleeping in a cell and we don't want him to hear this...". That was in 1952!
