Your self-appointment as the arbiter of who has credibility to post in this NG and who does not is as disgusting and pathetic as ever. You *troll* this NG in search of those with whom you disagree, and attempt to destroy their personal credibility on that basis alone. While this might be easy in some cases because some have little of it, have you ever wondered of the pitfall that you just might be wrong thereby lumping the good with the bad?

Of course not. Why do those of any intellectual substance need you to warn them? You're as egocentric and cowardly and insecure as McCarthy was. That's why you indulge the same vile tactics as he did. But to paraphrase.....have not had enough? At long last, have no sense of self-respect?

"Self-respect must be about the most silly thing a person could have." -- van Moortel.
