You may actually be one of the few people to realize even that!

[Ham]

No.. nothing so purile as that. The discovery I have made is in fact quite simple and straightforward... any qualified scientist can understand it. BUT... like you say, it's "such an astonishing thing" that they won't even look at it and are deathly afraid to get involved for fear of ridicule.

[Ham]

I don't think there is any question that Jesus was an "alpha male", and yet he never even managed to get married or have any kids. Don't fool yourself Sweety... there are some alpha males out there who get involved in things far more important to life on the planet than domestic bliss.

Now, a belief of the validity of the granddaddy's tactics, combined with the forgetfulness of death, which separates the generations, has led to a mis-perception of truth, and the collapse of the beta society is attributed to some higher power. God? Not God, no, but rather it is G_uv (the form of the darkness which was instilled by the granddaddy's children's misperception)*
> In the meanwhile, God has never entered the minds of the alpha-male society. They're just living naturally, uninfluenced by the darkness which pervades the rebel beta society, and unharmed by its instability and collapse.

[Ham]

There is no such thing as a society that can "ignore God". Even the "king of the mountain" has to know about it in order to protect himself.. every king in history has been declared the "defender of the faith". Ever notice how every archeological dig in history begins with headlines reading "Ancient temple location discovered"... believe it or not Sweety, Religion IS the most important social activity of Man and always has been.

> Except, that when the beta-society collapses, the inferior betas return to the alpha society. The beta males come in arrogance, forgetful of their status vis-a-vis the alpha males, and war ensues. The alpha males win. They are just stronger. But, the beta females have undoubtedly crept in and some are somewhat attractive to the alpha males, and so the alpha society is corrupted and ignorance now pervades all of society. But this ignorance is not God. It is only what dominates peoples' behavior.

[Ham]

Oh christ Sweety...sounds like you are describing the "class struggle" all over again... and YES the thory of religion is indeed central to the resolution of the class struggle. "All men are created equal" is after all of Religious origin, even though it appears in the opening lines of the Declaration of Independence.

[Ham]

Not to worry Sweety... the toughest bastards in the world are running Government, Science and Religion (including me) and we will discover the answer.... which we already know to be God.. and the proposition that "All men are created equal under God".

As soon as the discovery GOD=G_uv broaches the surface of public awareness... there will be a miraculous turn for the better in human society..... especially for women and children. The miracle may be closer than we think... but certainly no more than 5 years away... because- the miracle has already been discovered.. so it's all over but the shouting.
