

Re: This is What Einstein Actually Did.

Indeed, and it comes back again to subjectivity vs objectivity.

In Copernicus's day the Earth did not move, it was the centre of the universe --- because--- we cannot detect it's motion. The objective view is that the Earth moves around the sun, the subjective view is that the sun moves around the Earth.

Same thing with light having one speed only --- they continue to mutter "observer" as though an observer was something special. Their PoV is subjective.

We know that, it is common sense. The thing is, Einstein managed to "prove" otherwise. Since his "proof" defies common sense there has to be a simple flaw in the proof... what is it? I know, but you deny it.

It is very, very simple. Geschwindigkeit is speed, and Geschwindigkeit is velocity.

The SYMBOL  $c$

repeat...

THE SYMBOL  $c$

does NOT represent 299,792.4562 kilometers per second, it represents

"the velocity of light in our theory plays the part, physically, of an infinitely great velocity." – IFC Einstein

From A to B is  $x$ , from B to A is  $-x$ .

$2AB$  is  $2x$ ,

$x-x = 0AB$ .

THAT is the blunder!

Fuckin' hell, why can't you see that?

Forget physics for the moment and concentrate on the equation:

$2AB/(t'A-tA) = c$

$(AB)/(t'A-tA) = c/2$

OWLS is 150,000 km/sec?

Of course not, but that is what *Einstein* is saying.

Re: This is What Einstein Actually Did.

One cannot simply halve the round trip distance without halving the time as well. The cunt couldn't handle simple algebra.
(He could, actually, that's why SR is a malicious hoax.)
If your BaTh copies Einstein, your BaTh is as stupid as Einstein and you are an SRian.
Androcles.
