Hello,

My name is Victoria Roberts and I am the Acquisitions Administrator for Lone Wolf Enterprises, Ltd., a book producer. McGraw–Hill has asked us to produce books on the following general topics: signal processing, emerging communications technologies, cutting edge digital design techniques, and optical engineering. The prospective author should have significant standing in his professional community and/or a strong promotional platform.

If you are interested in becoming a published author, please reply with your credentials to me.

[Mod. note: Followup–To set to poster. –ik]

Thank you,

Victoria Roberts
