..... However, you can consider the Philosophy a just a mind opener. Means simply, more you do go a far along any research of anything, more it does – Philosophy– approaches to you, whether, you do want or not, it is a just a matter of a mind evolution. For the simple reason, also, that it is what is a really required a definitely by the Science. Whether, the religion, in the meantime, and since it becomes under any system feet, it already becomes to say as to indicates to people the way to their behaviours. Systematically, by also, putting to them one of the most tragic feeling, which the one of the guilt, which is a psychological auto–destruction. Therefore, they do become not to know what exactly to believe and to believe, even on the results of their minds, which are their own absolutely. As by the same occasion they do fall, to an horrible blockus which is also, the one of the expectation.

..... Systematically all along the religion and the thoughts, simply because, the religion, is not any more like it has had been along its concept. The reason also, you can remark, that a people, they do not want any more to be under any religion – a fear matter– and especially, since it has had been made –by the systems– one of the most crucial source of a conflicts and separations among a people. Something, which is not the goal of any religion at all.

..... Therefore, in the meantime, let us to take a look at any closed –Science, Religion, Philosophy– relation among any of the three of them. Whether, as a far as we do see, we can remark first of all, that along any perspective, our attention is already attracted, first of all, by the fact, that we do see, that any one of them, does a definitely supports as advances the other.

..... Therefore, they –Science, Religion, Philosophy– are an essential as a necessary matter to one another. The former, whether the Mathematics does makes it to stand, the faith does makes the thoughts to be accepted as believed. And the thoughts, does makes anything to be crossed, especially, when it is structured by the self belief, which a builder of a self trust, and which a primordial along any detail among the mentioned above. Otherwise, anything would a just stays a turning around all along, As among what it has had been already resolved, without any advance along
