

Re: Is Psychology/psychiatry a Science?

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.physics/2004-11/3110.html>

From: Uiopp (SearchResult8FromUioppuislad_at_faaa.co.nz)

Date: 11/12/04

Date: Fri, 12 Nov 2004 13:40:57 +1300

In article <41935834$0$19027$d368eab@news.calweb.com>,
John M Price PhD <jmprice@calweb.com> wrote:

> In sci.skeptic article

> <SearchResult8FromUioppuislad-3A4600.17370711112004@lust.ihug.co.nz> Uiopp

> <SearchResult8FromUioppuislad@faaa.co.nz> wrote:

>

> : [snip]

>

> : Please feel free not to respond to my posts, Dr. Price, but remember

> : that this shows that you have chickened out and made a fool of yourself.

>

> Kook sign, this!

If you don't have a problem with sexuality, you should be prepared to listen to me talk about it. The less you have a problem with it, the more you should be prepared to listen. If you are going to throw up your hands and say you refuse to listen, I think you do have a problem.

>Faith is the great cop-out, the great excuse to evade the need to think and evaluate evidence. Faith is belief in spite of, even perhaps because of, the lack of evidence.

How do you deal with the evidence which suggests homosexual men tend to have close mothers, and so forth?