

Re: Epistemology 201: The Science of Science

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.physics/2005-02/5781.html>

---

From: Albert (albertwagner_at_cox.net)

Date: 02/12/05

Date: Fri, 11 Feb 2005 20:53:55 -0600

robert j. kolker wrote:

>

>

> Tony Orlow (aeo6) wrote:

>

>>

>> Maybe you guys have sucky intuition because you're so steeped in formalisms.

>

>

> I have wonderful intuition. But half the time it is wrong.

And then your non-intuition kicks in. Non-mathematicians typically lack non-intuition and that is their problem. Intuition only works half the time.

--

"Don't you see that the whole aim of Newspeak is to narrow the range of thought? In the end we shall make thoughtcrime literally impossible, because there will be no words in which to express it."

-- George Orwell as Syme in "1984"