Schoenfeld, do you study to remain empty? Not only are you an idiot, a boor, and stooopid but you are incapable of using Google. Oafs laugh at you. You are a fucking imbecile.

Industrial diamond as abrasive *wholesales* for about $(US)2.10/gram with more than 110 tonnes/year moved worldwide in 2000. That's about $231 million in 2000 dollars. If it were more available more of it would move faster than the price would drop. Recent devaluation of the dollar already makes that more like $270 million in current dollars. Single point diamond turning is a growing premium market.

Gem diamond below 5 carats cut is only valuable by fiat. Larger than 25 carat flawless and fancy stones can go for $500K/carat or more – Allnat yellow, Moussaieff red, the Pumpkin, Steinmetz pink, Heart of Eternity blue, Ocean Dream blue–green. BTW, idiot Schoenfeld, that is serious annual net income if you are growing them in your garage.

Hey idiot Schoenfeld, can you run a spreadsheet? A DCF/ROI?
