Now, now... GR don't drift towards and into Potter's cerebral lowlands & don't wish death upon him. Let him suffer instead!

He is fun like all such reptilian pile drivers who think that they are so supremely important that their NG "message" will change the world... They are preciously hilarious. Let them

"sing" & enjoy watching their self-inflicted suffering... ahahaha...

Re: The physics of music.

There is already a good number of sub-intellectuals here at this NG cyber party whose only claim to fame is to advocate the murder of their imagined enemies. Little do these fanatical boogers know that they are exactly like the qualities they hate in their imagined enemies whom they suspect are out to murder them... ahahaha...
Nourish their paranoia and have fun with them... ahahahaha!
