

Re: Wind Directions?

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.physics/2005-12/msg00697.html>

- From: "AJW" <ajw27703@xxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: 8 Dec 2005 16:31:59 -0800
-

A "West" wind is <out of the west>. When the "winds are at 270 at 25 knots", where is the wind coming from?

FROM a true direction of 270 degrees in this case, out of the west, at 25 knots. Winds aloft would also include altitude information.

• References:

- ◆ Wind Directions?
◇ From: W. Watson
 - ◆ Re: Wind Directions?
◇ From: Dastardly Fiend
 - ◆ Re: Wind Directions?
◇ From: AJW
 - ◆ Re: Wind Directions?
◇ From: jmorriss@xxxxxxxxxx
- Prev by Date: Re: What's a good "proton reflector"?
 - Next by Date: Re: The measure of mass is inertia
 - Previous by thread: Re: Wind Directions?
 - Next by thread: Re: Wind Directions?
 - Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread