Hi Eric_Gisse, You asked me:
Hows that crusade to get everyone on Wikipedia
to do editing just like you going ?

I let them remove all the carriage returns,
I can't fight 10 admins all at once... some of them are pretty high-level.

Mabey that should tell you something.

I might offer to write a diff routine for them that compares 80 character chunks instead of lines.
Their current diff is sensitive to extra spaces and lines... it shouldn't be.

They have been over this with you. You edit your way, everyone ELSE edits another way.

Hey! This is familiar! Look at how you fuck up USENET on a regular basis. You post to USENET your way, everyone else does it the same way which is DIFFERENT from your way. Hey look, talk.origins is in the followup header – I'm sensing a pattern!

Are you unfamiliar with the concept of standards or are you just an idiot?

Me! Me! I can answer that one!!!

Jeff is just an Idiot!

Yay! A gold star at last! Woo hoo.

Seriously, it is a major source of amusement to me that Jeff is looked down upon in the same way, and for the same reason on Wiki as here.
