Hi T_Puddleduck, Standards are like items on a menu, best chose wisely.
I pick the standards that suit me best and discard the rest.

You reject ALL standards, asshole.

You refuse to conform to USENET standards.

You refuse to conform to Windows GUI standards.

You refuse to conform to Wikipedia standars.

You refuse to even write English properly.

I can do that because I code for myself. My car is custom-built.

Can you imagine what this car is like?

Probably a Honda from the 70s or 80s.

I am willing to bet money he does not have the aptitude to build a vehicle that won't get him pulled over and ticketed.

His "custom-built" car is probably as custom as any theory from cosmology is actually his. He probably put some stripes on it and
