

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.physics/2006-11/msg02117.html>

---

- From: tdp1001@xxxxxxxx
  - Date: 22 Nov 2006 17:19:05 -0800
-

Double-A wrote:

Tom Potter wrote:

"Double-A" <double-aa@xxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:1164076244.631980.297550@xx

Tom Potter wrote:

Reuters – Sun Nov 19, 2006
Indonesia anti-Bush rallies pick up steam

"the cost and trouble of security preparations for the visit, including building helicopter pads in a Bogor botanical garden and plans to lock down much of the town during and ahead of the visit.

The U.S. ambassador to Indonesia, Lynn Pascoe, has said the need for security reflects the reality that "there are lots of crazy people in the world out there, (who) will do crazy things".

=====
End quote.

Ambassador Pascoe makes a good point!

What could be crazier,
than for the maximum leader of the

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

most trusted and respected nation on Earth to unilateral wage a needless war on a small nation,

and kill and maim hundreds of thousands of human beings,
and cost every family in the aggressor
nation,
tens of thousands of dollars,

and destroy the trust and respect that the world had for the aggressor nation?

What could be crazier?????

As Ambassador Pascoe points out sometimes crazy people manage to occupy powerful offices,
and do very crazy things.

Not since the days of the Roman Empire,
has the leader of a powerful nation been so egotistical, arrogant, unstable, and "crazy"
as George Bush.

--

Tom Potter

Have you noticed how your beloved Democrats have become nothing but conciliatory now that the election is over and they have won control of the Congress. Talk of impeaching Bush and making radical changes from the way Republicans did things are now all out the window as politicians seek to fit in and to pursue the interests of their own political careers. I don't see any moves coming soon to end the war by the Democrats as they are now show their eagerness to compromise and accommodate the administration and take their place in the overall power structure. Ralph Nader is right, you know. There is really only

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

one political party in this country!

Just like in your country, Potter.

It is interesting to see that Double-A equates criticism of George Bush to being a Democrat.

As can be seen,
from my numerous posts to the newsgroups,
I am an ex-entrepreneur and free market advocate,
who supported Republicans and George Bush, BEFORE Bush got into office and showed that he had, like most national politicians, sold out to the Jewish Lobby.

Double-A (And Ralph Nader) do make a good point when they point out that both Democrats and Republicans at the national level, are owned by the Jewish Lobby,
and are pretty much alike,
except for the rhetoric.

As Philip, Alexander the Great's father said:
"No city walls are so secure that they cannot be breached, if you can get a donkey load of gold up to the city gates."

As can be seen,
both Democrats and Republicans at the national level,
sell out for a few donkey loads of gold,
and the American taxpayers pay an enormous price in lives, limbs, loss of freedoms, and thousands of donkey loads of gold.

It appears that the greatest return one can get on an investment is to buy the national leaders in rich nations, and in nations that have rich resources.

As I have posted,
the best way to obtain a non-corruptible, democratic government is to select Representatives randomly from all of a nation's citizens, and have the Representatives, in turn, select a group of people to head up the various departments such as Defense, State, etc.
who in turn could assign one of their members to be the dictator ("The decider") for short periods in times of REAL emergencies.

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

And to sell the seats in the Senate to the highest bidder, in order to give voice to the long term movers and shakers in the society.

The American government is controlled by the Jewish Lobby and other religious and special interests, and NOT by the American citizens.

Speaking of Ralph Nader,
he did General Motors, America, conservation, and the environment
a great injustice, with his book "Unsafe at any speed", that attacked the Corvair, which was paving the way to:

1. Protecting the American auto market from Japanese cars.
2. Conservation of oil, steel, etc.
3. Less pollution.

Nader also did America a great harm by allowing Bush to become president, and this has been America's greatest tragedy,
short of the Civil War.

--
Tom Potter

The flaw in your proposed system of government is that if the Jewish Lobby has had the cash to buy up all the politicians now, they would certainly have a lock on the Senate under your proposed system!

But what the hey, why not sell the Presidency to the highest bidder too?

Regarding Double-A's assertion:
"the Jewish Lobby has the cash to buy up all the politicians now", the Jewish Lobby does not have "the cash to buy up all the politicians now."

They do have enough cash to buy enough crooked politicians, and they do have enough media presence to intimidate enough politicians, to the extent that they can impose their agenda upon the masses, whom are in sort of a "democratic balance".

In other words, the social forces tend to force political, social and economic systems into the root, mean-squared, desires of the masses.

The Jewish Lobby, and other self-serving groups,

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

capitalize on this, and only have to buy a few dishonest and venerable politicians in order to impose their agenda upon the masses.

1. If the Representatives were selected RANDOMLY from all of the people, the House of Representatives would be TRULY democratic, and this would eliminate the influence of money and media in selecting the people's representatives.

2. The purpose of the Senate is to give voice to the movers and shakers in society, and to give them the stability and confidence they need to promote costly, long term projects, thus the seats in the Senate should be sold to the highest bidder, NO MATTER WHAT their race, religion, color or nationality is, as the domain of the elite extends over the whole world.

As I have posted, at the current time, only the Jewish Lobby is allowed to buy politicians. As can be seen, when China, or anyone else tries this, they are roundly attacked by the media, and the existing politicians.

The system should be opened so that all races, religions, nations, companies, organizations, etc. can bid on, and buy, a few Senators.

This would bring the system into the open, allow others than the Jewish Lobby to get in on the act, and the money paid for these seats would go into the general fund, rather than be wasted "Swiftboating and "Mel Gibsoning"., and stirring up hate and division.

3. The people that end up in the Senate would be people like Ted Turner, Henry Ford, Edison, Bill Gates, etc. who have made their mark in the free market, and would like to impose some of their philosophy on the world.

The Senators would know what qualities are need in a good executive, and the Senate would have the power to select people to be presented to the Representatives for their approval to head the various offices, such as Defense, State, Agriculture, Environment, Energy, etc.

4. In times of REAL crisis, as determined by a 2/3 vote in the House of Representatives, the heads of the departments would select ONE of their members to be Dictator for one year. Rome did this when they were a Republic, and it worked very well, as it allowed them to become the masters of all of Europe.

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

Re: Crazy people do crazy things

Regarding Double-A's question:

"why not sell the Presidency to the highest bidder too?", this would open up the opportunity for small groups, such as the Jewish Lobby, to pool their resources, and buy the President, and people like Bush and Lieberman would end up in these offices.

Under my system, the people (Senators) who recognize executive material would select it, and the people's Representatives would approve or disapprove in order to allow the will of the masses to have a veto in the matter.

As can be seen, the present system is not only NOT democratic, it greatly benefits the people who own media.

The media not only profits from the fact that the contending social forces have to waste enormous amounts of money buying media in order to have a voice, they are able to use media to brainwash the masses to their agenda and to intimidate politicians.

--

Tom Potter

<http://home.earthlink.net/~tdp/>

<http://tdp1001.googlepages.com/home>

<http://no-turtles.com>

<http://www.frappr.com/tompotter>

<http://photos.yahoo.com/tdp1001>

<http://spaces.msn.com/tdp1001>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/tom-potter/>

<http://tom-potter.blogspot.com>

.

Re: Crazy people do crazy things