Unfortunately, Mr. Dobson is one of them. He only came here looking for "ammo."

How come I didn't fire it, then?

You do not need to defend yourself, Dobbie.
He who knows not and knows not that he knows not, he is a fool. Shun him.
The burk with the head has made a fool of itself.
Call him a nasty name and killfile the arsehole.

I could have done that alot earlier, but I chose not to leave him and some others to their own stupidity, because they chose to force the issue and pressure me silent. That's the kind of thing that makes me vocal. This isn't about who knows the most Physics – there's no contest. He keeps calling me stupid, despite the fact that I run rings around him, when he talks about what he knows little about. I thought I'd cut him some slack and let him prove what he could do, employing his specialist subject. He still managed to make a pig's ear of what should have been a slam-dunk. A very poor performance indeed.
