Wow, your million acre forest is in the Tongass, Native land.
And your workers, 5 crews of 10 each, live near Seattle and take 5 boats out to log 'em.

Your mill, the fourth largest in the world, is on your land.

Man, that's hitting close to home.
I love Seattle and the Tongass, more than anywhere else.
Those fuckers, your crew, are just too damn lucky.
