

Re: Poem for Potter: Do not go gentle into real understanding of GTR

Only if they are smarter than you. Shit, I forgot, EVERYBODY's smarter than you. My bad.

Openness goes a long way toward forcing sociopaths to act in a moral, civilized, honest
way.

Openness also allows creeps like you to stalk people. I bet your last name is really "Cho".

The government, Yahoo,
Google and the ISPs
know who the sociopaths
are,

That would be you.

too bad they do not make
this information public,
as it would go a long way toward cleaning up the system.

How do we know Tom Potter is your REAL name, coward?

As can be determined by any person
with average intelligence,

Therefore, a genius compared to you.

Re: Poem for Potter: Do not go gentle into real understanding of GTR

I have been posting using my real name for over ten years on the Internet, and many more years before that on CompuServe,
Delphi, AOL,
Prodigy, Genie, etc.

Big fucking whoop.

And there are many pictures of me and my family
on my web sites and blogs,

Anybody can set up a free blog or website.

and if that isn't enough to convince some dunce,

convince YOU?

they can download my Physics Tutorial,

and laugh hysterically at the ignorance.

which is copyrighted in my name,

Which could be an alias. Is you birth certificate and fingerprints and social security card and driver's license and passport photo there?

and if that isn't enough to convince some dunce,
they can send money to my Paypal account.

How about just stick my foot up your ass.

Re: Poem for Potter: Do not go gentle into real understanding of GTR

It's pretty easy to spot the cowardly, low-self-esteem neurotics, they use handles like
"Sacred keeper of the Hollow Sphere",
and they spam the newsgroups with inane posts
attacking folks in an effort to get a cheap ego trip.

Blah, blah, blah. Do you want a cookie?

I can't understand

physics? math? science? supply and demand? genetics?

why the antisocial misfits
give up trying to earn ego trips,
and define themselves as permanent losers,

Like retired salemen?
I've got a PhD., asshole. That makes me a winner and you dog crap I wipe off my shoe.

When I read a "The_Man" post,

Your brain starts to overheat, from all the work?

I am always reminded of the movie where Rodney Dangerfield is cleaning the cages of monkeys thereby proving that his character had more qualifications than you.

used in a communications experiment.

Don't worry about "being reminded"; you'll forget your own name soon enough, senile old bastard.

Re: Poem for Potter: Do not go gentle into real understanding of GTR

He scrunched his nose and said:

"I think they should first teach them how to go the the bathroom."

Maybe they should teach you that, TOO. Are those Depends (R) getting expensive?

It seems to me that the first things that should be taught to PhD candidates is how to spell,

I spell quite well – I can't usually be bothered to double-check my work when talking to you, being as you wouldn't understand it whether it was perfect or not.

and how to conduct themselves is a rational, civilized manner,

Any unbiased observer would note that my knowledge of the subject far exceeds yours, you started mudslinging first, and that I get the better of you everytime. Give up.

and how to go to the bathroom.

Maybe when you learn how to go to the bathroom, you can teach it to Androcles.

Most schools won't sell a PhD credential

Maybe if you knew how to spell "Ph.D.", I might take your spelling criticisms more seriously.

BTW, reputable schools don't "sell" Ph.D.'s. That must be the "salesman's" view of the world you have, all buying and selling.

to a person that reflects badly on the school,

You reflect badly on any school you attended, any company you worked for, and the country of your origin.

Re: Poem for Potter: Do not go gentle into real understanding of GTR

as it would make the school look bad,
and they would have to discount their fees.

Hate to break it to you, oldtimer, Ph.D. students don't pay "fees" to the university; the university pays THEM. Yet another example of the magnitude of your ignorance of academics and academia.

Maybe "The_Man" got his PhD credential out of a Cracker Jack box.

"PhD' again – maybe it isn't an honest typo, but that you really don't know that Ph.D. (note the spelling and punctuation) is an ABBREVIATION for something.

Maybe I just don't suffer fools gladly. I didn't in graduate school, and I certainly don't now.
