

Re: Need journal for a short letter

Re: Need journal for a short letter

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.physics/2007-07/msg01697.html>

- From: John Schutkeker <jschutkeker@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 27 Jul 2007 18:29:54 GMT
-

The_Man <me_so_horneeeee@xxxxxxxx> wrote in <news:1185467090.338240.80190@xx>:

On Jul 26, 11:55 am, John Schutkeker
<jschutke...@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

Bruce Scott TOK <[Use-Author-Supplied-Address-Header@\[127.1\]](mailto:Use-Author-Supplied-Address-Header@[127.1])> wrote innews:200707251830.16PIUtY9013909@xxxxxxxx:

Read lots and lots of papers from the journal to get a good idea of what their culture is like.

What do you mean by "culture"?

He means the way concepts are phrased, unusual terminology, favorite (or least favorite topics) – that sort of thing.

Perhaps you could enlighten me as to "the way concepts are phrased" for PRL.

If your paper covers work that was already done by someone else 30 years ago, it won't get published.

Someday, please remind me to try to publish work that was done thirty years ago. ?:(~

.