This is a good place to mention, after biggus' tirade above (gee, didn't persuade enough people to smear enough other people today?), that biggus has an analog in Politics, namely those who believe in Civilian Control of War by Diplomacy and Espionage as opposed to Military Control of War. Biggus would be off sci.physics under Military Control of the current War against Islamist nations Iraq, Afghanistan, Iran, Syria, Saudi Arabia, Pakistan, "Palestine", but under Civilian Control propagandists and trolls and graffiti artists and Civilian "moderators" (compare the Comintern of the USSR) rule. Civilian Control of War has lost every War that the USA engaged in since WWII. In fact, WWII had Military Control of War in the USA and U.K. in fact if not in name. After WWII, we let the "Cold War" in with Diplomacy and Propaganda and occasional intermittent isolated (not coordinated) Military actions against one nation at a time except for the ones that had no economic value to Multinational Corporations and Big Government Advocates like Afghanistan. We lose the Korean War to a stalemate, we lost the Vietnam War and with it Laos and Cambodia. Reagan "won Grenada", a tiny and useless piece of real estate that reminds me of the farcical U.K. victory over the Falkland Islands.

But probably the ultimate in futility happened in 2006 when the Democrats went with Jobs only and the Republicans went with Self-

Defense only. This is the ultimate type of Duncery in politics, the one-issue Civilian Party that creates a half-dead nation, killing off working people for Self-Defense or Self-Defenders for work. And we've got both of those Parties. Parliamentary Democracy was intended for Peacetime, not Wartime when the external Enemy uses Military Control of War and the internal corrupt Civilians use Economic Dictatorship and control of News Media Corporations and the Academic and Service Employees Mafias to tear the nation apart.
