Hey Sammy,
I just did a search on (GPS Wormley)
and the first hit was:

"Sam Wormley's Global Positioning System (GPS) Resources · Geography Large collection of information/education resources and links, from Iowa State University.
edu-observatory.org/gps/gps.html"

How do you explain this Sammy?

If I didn't know better, I would think that someone was trying to con folks into thinking that that web site is an edu web site,

Re: Sad News. John Wheeler is dead.

so they can sell "educational resources", and rack up change from Google Ad Sense clicks.

Gee, Potter, you seem easily duped if you think a .org site is being passed off as a .edu site. Or perhaps you think that EVERY site that has "edu" in it is being passed of as an edu site, such as the following:

www.edu.com

colleges.usnews.rankingsandreviews.com/ usnews/edu/college/rankings/rankindex_brief.php

www.spantran-edu.com/

www.logistics-edu.com/

www.eusa-edu.com/

www.edu-technology.com/

www.edu-hq.com/

www.edu-prize.com/

www.financial-edu.com/

www.creative-edu.com/

edu.ricoh-developer.com/

www.edu-therapeutics.com/

It's a real shame that Potter is such a dweeb that he has to worry about websites containing edu in their URL's, lest he be snookered into thinking they are university domains. It's a good thing that he's removed himself of the everyday fray where he might be easily taken advantage of.

It is interesting to see that PD
and his buddy Eric Gisse, do not think that Sam Wormley is capable of defending his use of a misleading URL (edu-observatory.org),

and his implication that his web site is operated by Iowa State University, so they jump in and provide support with personal attacks, rather than with rational, intelligent, MORAL discourse.

I wonder if the old saying "Thicker than thieves."

applies to the Einstein Cult???
